records. The frequency of dismissals left little room for doubt in the minds of the men that they were all in danger of discharge at a moment's notice, and hence the strike. The whole question hinges upon discharge of Knights of Labor because they are such. If it can be shown that these men were working injury to their employers, in right-minded men will say they are treated as they deserve. If they were discharged for cause the company has everything to gain and nothing to lose from an investigation. If they deserved dismissal from the service, none of us will ask for their reinservice, none of us will ask for their statement. The bill was then passed.

The Tariff bill was taken up. Mr. Carlisle thought that either the duty of two and two-tents a pound on the plate, with four cents a pound on the raw material, was too low; or it was too high when passed by the House, and reported by the Finance Committee with block-tin on the free-list.

Mr. Aldrich replied to Mr. Carlisle, and the colloquy between the two gentlemen took a wide range over the whole field of mt. Plumb's amendment the bill was laid.

Mr. Chalmers was granted permission to address the House for an hour and a half. He criticised the committee's report, and said that for years there had been a con-spiracy in the South to carry elections for the Democratic party.
